One of the largest and most excited crowds of people that ever attended a magistrate's court assembled at Stafford C. H. Tuesday, when Mr. Norris w. Jones was tried for selling liquor on bunday and within three hundred yards of a church during services. The court was presided over by Justices Fitzbugh and Towson and the counsel for Jones was Judge John T. Goolrick. for Jones was Judge John T. Goolrick, and for the State Commonwealth's Atand for the State Commonwealth & Attorney G. B. Wallace and T. W. Berrey.
Three charges were pending against Jones—selling without a license, selling to minors, selling on Sunday and within 300 yards of a church during services. The case was tried on the latter charge. A large number of witnesses were avanined. The court imnesses were examined. The court imposed a fine of $10, the liquor conficated and sold by Deputy Sheriff J. K. Bryan, and Jones bonded in the sum of $500 for good behavior during a period of one year. He was then discharged
